

Change Rationale

Every change carried into the September 1 packet, what it changed from, and the authority it rests on. Prepared so any question at the table can be answered from one page set.

INTERNAL · FOR THE BRIDGE · NOT OUTWARD FACING

Prepared by Alley Till for Branding & Outreach · alley.till@luminara.institute · September 1, 2026

THE POSITION IN ONE PARAGRAPH

Almost nothing in this packet was invented. The structure follows the Chair's own Codex-to-Structure presentation, already shown to the community. The legal particulars follow the filed record and current Washington statute. The identity decisions follow the founding materials and Drew Stone's brand work, which is untouched. Where a judgment call was made, it is named as one, the Board Briefing Memorandum argues it, and the board can redirect it by motion today.

STRUCTURE AND NAMES

|--------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Program structure | Four Programs plus the Academy→ six divisions under The Program                                                        | The Chair's Codex-to-Structure Office Hours deck, presented to the community; all division names verified as exact strings in it. People are already working to this structure. |
| Bridge structure  | Three Bridge Groups → four:Governance · Finance &Fundraising · InternalCommunications · Branding &Outreach | Same deck for the structure. "Branding & Outreach" refines the deck's "Marketing & Branding": the group lead's naming call; no filed document constrains the name.              |
| Super Cockpit     | Division name → platform built bythe Technology, AI & InformationSystems division                                  | The deck names the division; Super Cockpit appears there as a platform, not an organizational unit.                                                                             |
| Recorded names    | Mixed short and long forms → longform in all documents; short formsin conversation and slides only                 | Consistency rule set by Branding & Outreach: "Soulship Academy" with no slash, "Community Service" never bare "Community."                                                      |
| HeartBeam home    | Claimed by two programs →Research as single accountablehome, others contribute                                     | Named as a judgment call in the Briefing Memorandum, item 2. The internal record was split; either home is defensible, ambiguity is not. Board confirms or redirects today.     |

LEGAL RECORD

|---------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Corporate name     | Variant usages → "Luminara Institute of Light" on every business document                                             | The filed Articles. The Secretary of State record is the name's source of truth.                                                                      |
| Statute citations  | References to the repealed act → RCW 24.03A throughout                                                                | The current Washington Nonprofit Corporation Act. Verified against the statute, not assumed.                                                          |
| Formation date     | Loose references → effective May 7, 2026 everywhere                                                                   | The Secretary of State certificate; UBI 606 219 823.                                                                                                  |
| Presiding officer  | President's office unfilled and unaddressed → Chair performs the president's statutory functions, office stays vacant | RCW 24.03A.585 requires the functions, not the title. Resolution 3 answers the question on the face of the record; no new office, no title changes.   |
| Fiscal sponsorship | Unwritten arrangement → authorization to execute a written agreement and file the exemption application               | Resolution 11. Funder diligence requires the agreement in writing; solicitation materials disclose the sponsorship until federal recognition arrives. |
| Bridge lineage     | "Since April 2026" → begun in 2021 as the Virtual World Society's Futures Subcommittee                                | The Evolution slide of the Chair's deck, corroborated by member testimony. The earlier date was simply wrong.                                         |

IDENTITY AND LANGUAGE

|----------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Tagline             | "Guides of human transcendence" → "Seekers of human transcendence, through technology and experience"                                            | Correction of an error. Pioneer is the community role; Seekers is the tagline word; one word per job. Founding language is otherwise quoted verbatim everywhere.                    |
| Pioneer             | Informal usage → the settled community role with a defined path                                                                                  | Resolution 9 adopts the intake path and the title; the Pioneer Path exhibit defines the ladder from first task to contributor.                                                      |
| Charter and CODEX   | Full working CODEX at the public charter link → two-page Founding Charter published; CODEX continues as an internal working document             | The communications review's recommendation, adopted as Resolution 13. Peers publish short statements and keep deliberations internal.                                               |
| Lineage line        | Mixed references to the predecessor → "formerly The Light School," once per surface, until September 1, 2027                                     | The Light School was the real predecessor name. Renamed organizations acknowledge the former name for about a year, then retire it deliberately.                                    |
| Every-page identity | Unsettled per-page requirements → logo and name on every page; full legal name on business documents; "Luminara" alone on materials and outreach | Authenticity floor set by Branding & Outreach; recorded in the Branding Style Sheet under Resolution 12. The motto returns to community use rather than appearing on every page.    |
| Colors and fonts    | No change                                                                                                                                        | Drew Stone's palette and type are untouched. The accessibility variants in review are computed proposals that go to Drew before any adoption; no stealth changes to his hex values. |

RECORDS AND PRACTICE

|--------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Corporate records       | Records scattered across personal accounts → "Corporate Records" shared drive, kept by the Secretary | Resolution 10; the benchmark review's first infrastructure finding.                                                                                          |
| Interim custody control | No hardcopy practice → quarterly printed deposit, Chair-verified, until systems exist                | The Retention Policy and the Records Custody Rollout Plan. Deliberately broad now, converting to standard minute-book practice on a future board resolution. |
| Conflict of interest    | COI language buried in appendices → adopted policy, annual signed disclosure at the table            | Resolution 4; bylaws Section 9.1 names the policy as its operative form. Standard 501(c)(3) practice.                                                        |
| Public contacts         | info@luminara.institute everywhere → named institute addresses per function                          | info@ is not yet a live mailbox; it exists only on the website. Routing now uses verified institute addresses so every published contact actually answers.   |
| Document titles         | Long descriptive titles → short polished titles with matching filenames                              | Presentation clarity; identifying sub-lines preserve the full formal descriptions. No content changed by retitling.                                          |

WHAT WAS DELIBERATELY NOT CHANGED

Drew Stone's colors and typography. The founding language: the signature question, the motto, and the mission opener are quoted verbatim. The downloaded state filings and legal-status documents, preserved exactly as filed. The CODEX itself, which continues unedited as the internal working document. And the board slate, which is presented as publicly stated, with elections today making it the board of record.

IF CHALLENGED

The order of authority behind this packet: the filed public record first, current statute second, the Chair's structure presentation third, the brand steward's materials for identity, and the group lead's judgment only where none of those speak. Every judgment call is disclosed in the Board Briefing Memorandum rather than buried, and each one can be redirected by motion today. That is the defense: the packet does not ask the board to trust the drafter; it shows its sources.
